TWO GILL NETTERS LIFTED YESTERDAY

THEY WERE THE ONLY BOATS TO BRING ANY FISH SINCE TUESDAY.

Two gill netters with 10,000 pounds between them, were the only arrivals in port since Tuesday. Some of the boats took a "shot" and went out yesterday morning, but hurried back after poking their noses around the breakwater. Some of the gill net fleet started today for their gear, but they also turned back on account of the high wind, so that it looks like another fishless day tomorrow.

Glocester Arrivals and Receipts.

The arrivals and fares in detail:

Boat Mary J. Landry, gill netting, 2000 lbs. fresh fish.

Boat Enterprise, gill netting, 8000 lbs. fresh fish.

Sch. Sadie M. Nunan, shore.

Sailed.

No sailings reported today.

Fitting For Labrador.

Sch. Arthur D. Story is being fitted for the Labrador coast for a voyage, and will probably get away in a couple of weeks.

HALF DOZEN IN AT BOSTON TODAY

FLEET BROUGHT ONLY 200,000
POUNDS OF FISH AND PRICES JUMPED.

Only a half dozen arrivals were reported at the Fish Pier this morning, three of them being beam trawlers, one an off-shore dragger and the other two shore draggers. Total receipts were slightly over 200,000 pounds, consequently there was an advance in prices over yesterday. A sturgeon was landed by the off-shore dragger Marietta B.

Haddock went to $6 and large cod sold at $6.75. Other fish showed a similar increase over yesterday's sales.

NEW SCHOONER RUNS AGROUND

While heading out of Boston harbor yesterday afternoon on her way to the fishing grounds, the new Boston fishing schooner Rainbow, owned and commanded by Capt. Jacob Brigham, of Dorchester, went aground on Lower Middle, abreast of Governor's Island, and despite the combined efforts of the Harbor Tug Powow and two Coast-guard patrol boats, remained hard and fast.

The schooner went on at 1 o'clock, when the tide was two hours on the ebb, and further attempts to free her had to be postponed until the next high tide, just before midnight. It was expected that the Rainbow would be floated off without difficulty, as there is a 10.7 foot rise, and that no damage will result. She is resting easily on a mud bottom.
